“ The one memory that sticks in my mind was the week pj and his mother spent at my mom and dad's house. I was helping my mom with the laundry and I turned pj's white underpants pink lol his mother had to bleach them. Then nancy and I got this idea to scare pj and my brother who both were outside in the garage working on a car my brother bought so nancy and I snuck around the building not knowing there was a broken windshield on the ground I ran right into it cut 3 of my toes. That was the best week ever my dad loved having his sister and nephew stay with us. My dad cried when they left.
