May 25, 1955 - October 6, 2020

Tina Eisenhauer went to be with the Lord Tuesday, October 6, 2020 at the age of 65. She was born to parents Lorraine and Edward McDaniel in Fairbanks, Alaska on May 25, 1955.

Her father was in the army and her early years were spent in Alaska, Texas, Panama and Georgia before settling down in Newark Delaware. There she would graduate from Newark High School in 1973 and go on to earn a degree in special education from the University of Delaware in 1977. She married David in 1978. She taught in the Red Clay School District for several years and in 1987 she began her career at Wilmington Christian School. She was a beloved 1st grade teacher for many years. Her desire to spend more time supporting students with learning differences spurred her to help build the Learning Support program at WCS. She was teaching and championing students up until her death. But to those closest to her she was a wonderful mother and an amazing wife. She is survived by husband David of 42 years and three children. Candice Eisenhauer, Tara (Jon) McAllister and Wallace (Christine) Eisenhauer and five grandchildren she adored and treasured, Parker and Ellie McAllister and Hayden, Avery and Lillian Eisenhauer. She is also survived by her mother, Lorraine and brother, Alan McDaniel.

“ My family was so saddened to learn of Mrs. Eisenhower’s passing. I was so grateful she had chosen to work with my son this year and he had really started to enjoy their work together. It was clear she had a wonderful gifted way with children. My condolences to her family, friends and the entire Wilmington Christian community.

“ Tina was my son’s learning support teacher for years. She was our saving grace during such a difficult time. When my son had no confidence and was feeling like giving up she helped him to hold his head high. She earned a special place in his heart as well as ours. No matter what was going on in her life she always put her students first. Our family was devastated to hear of her passing. She can be proud of all she has taught her students. Even in hearing of her passing my son asked if he could write her one last letter to show her what he learned and how well he did on his test because of her. Tina will be greatly missed by many but never forgotten. Our sympathy goes out to her family.

“ Such special memories with Mrs. Eisenhower, she took me to an ice skating how with her daughter and my friend Candice and later observing her teaching as I prepared to become a teacher. I so appreciate her impact on my life. My thoughts and prayers to Candice and the rest of her family.

“ Our family is so sad to learn of Mrs Eisenhower’s passing. Her passion for helping others was undeniable and she instilled such sensitivity and confidence in all those that she worked with.
Her love of the Lord was inspiring.
Tina was a very kind, caring and loving person who will be greatly missed by everyone that knew her.
May God be with her family and those closest to her during the weeks and months ahead. She will be terribly missed but her spirit will always live on.

“ In 2012, we moved here from the midwest. I had homeschooled previously and my youngest who was going into 2nd grade by age, could barely read. I was really concerned about that because if he had to be held back (he is a really smart kid) because of my failure to teach him to read, I would be devastated. When I called and spoke with Tina about it, I was immediately drawn and comforted by her sweet, soothing voice. Her words were wise and led me to trust God and what He has for my son. In the end, my son was just fine and stayed in 2nd grade but that was my first impression of her and that impression remained true through all of the time I knew and worked with her. I don't think I ever saw Tina mad about anything! She was so patient and kind and even when I would get frustrated with those I worked for or with, she was always a calming influence on me. I will always treasure our friendship and will look forward to seeing her again someday.

“ I am so very sorry for your loss. The family and friends of Mrs. Eisenhower will be in my prayers. My daughters Kristen and Kelly both had Mrs. Eisenhower as a 1st grade teacher many years ago. We all remember her kindness and warm personality. She was a terrific teacher as well and both of my daughter remember her so very fondly. It was partly because of the wonderful memories of Mrs. Eisenhower and Wilmington Christian that my oldest daughter, Kristen, now has 3 of her children there.

Please know how much she meant to us - we have nothing but wonderful memories.

Sincerely,

Alice Conlin
