“ I remember when you would come to my house almost every day and I would be sleeping and you'd come in and turn on the light and be like “wake up sleeping is for the birds” and I would get up. Nobody likes to wake me up I'm like a bear. Lol I miss you so much I still can't believe your not just a phone call away. I still wake up and go to call you and than I remember your not here. Fly high girl and save me a sit next to you so we can talk crap about people together. Rest easy knowing meow meow, Turbo and Crimson are safe and cared for. And I'll always miss you.

When I moved to Townsend in first grade the first person I met was Aleah we would always sit together in the cafeteria, we would grow our friendship by sharing interests and listening to music on the bus ride home. Fast forward we are running around in the vast wilderness of blackbird forest, rocking out to ke$ha, and trying to learn how to do our hair, too many sleepovers, way to many pool days, so little time. When I found out you passed over I was shocked at first I didn't want to believe it, I was hoping that Kristen had heard a rumor and that I could call you and everything would be just fine, but when I sat back and really thought I knew nobody would be as sick as to joke like that, I went home and practiced my spirituality I was crying heavily when I looked up over my candles and noticed. It was a double rainbow, you knew I was going to find out today (Jun28,2020) I guess that was ur way of comforting me from the metaphysical plain that you have crossed into. I took a nap thinking that was going to fix my problems but alas that just fueled the fire, I woke up sobbing balling my eyes out at the fact and realization, when u moved to Florida I never called. I never checked on you , so we could catch up on old times, it's amazing because so many memories that I've suppressed for so long popped up when I herd that you had passed I guess that was your way of catching up with me.

From now on I know I have a purpose, a path to follow and you have always been apart of it I love you and I love the sacrifices you made for your family and your friends you went so hard for the people you loved, I took it for granted when you were here but no more. I'm gonna go as hard for you now as you did when you were here for me . Rest in power Love, you can finally be at peace, we got you . I can't wait to reunite with you one day, save a comfortable seat for Me cus I'm gonna show out for you love ❤️ - Taiylor Myers

“ My daughter Julie me and Leah driving back to fla 2 years ago. We got caught in a snow storm in VA. As we where going up a ramp. Leah says wouldn't it be funny if we got stuck here. Well guess what happened. We got stuck. So I said ok your wish came true Leah. now get out and push. Julie at the wheel I tried to help but I am 60. Plus we are not exactly dressed in snow gear. So I got back into the back seat. Now you have to understand this car was heavy, very low to the ground, no snow tires( we live in Florida, don't need them) so Leah gets us moving we are trying to keep the door open but it keeps on closing as she is trying to get back in the . Mitsubishi eclipse this was a sports car two doors. So her second time worked. We were moving slow but moving. Then what do we see once we are over the ramp. (A toll booth, no one there) I said don't STOP! We will never get out of here. I don't care send me a ticket. We made it back home. That's one of my funny stories. Now for my most important moment we Leah and me we shared on March 4th she helped my cat Abby delivered her 5 kittens. I even cut the cord on one of them. Leah pick one for her self. She was waiting on Brandon to get there on place. So I told her I will keep it for her. So I am keeping blaze the orange tabby. Every time I look at blaze I see Leah eyes looking at me. She was a besy young lady gone to soon. I will miss her so much. She was my other daughter, she lived with me, Julie and Mark. Brandon moved in later with her. He loved her so much like we all do. I lost a daughter, Julie lost a sister, Mark a sister. A Brandon lost her future wife. Rip Leah. We will be seeing you again.
