

Alexis M. McGonigle

February 9, 1998 - May 14, 2025

In Loving Memory of Alexis McGonigle
May 14, 2025

With heavy and aching hearts, we share the passing of Alexis McGonigle on May 14, 2025. Though her time with us was far too short, the love, laughter, and light she brought into the world will live on in the hearts of all who knew her.

Alexis was a beautiful soul—goofy, vibrant, and full of warmth. Her bright smile could light up the darkest room, and her humor had a way of disarming sadness and drawing people close. She had a heart that gave freely, even when her own was hurting.

She faced struggles that life sometimes placed in her path, but through it all, her love—especially for her sons—was fierce and enduring. Giovanni and Bentley were her heart, and she now watches over them as their guardian angel, holding them with the same love from above that she carried on earth.

Alexis was a cheerleader and a volleyball player at William Penn High School, where she brought energy, determination, and light to every team she was a part of.

She was always a daddy's girl, sharing a special bond of love and laughter with her father. And her mother was her biggest cheerleader—her rock, supporting her with unwavering love through every chapter of life.

Alexis is survived by her loving parents, Robert and Judy McGonigle, and her cherished sons, Giovanni and Bentley. She is also survived by her siblings and their families:

- Jennifer Maldonado and Josh
- Amber Miller and Will
- Danielle McKenzie and Andrew
- Bob McGonigle Jr. and Tabitha
- Amber Lynn McGonigle

She was a beloved aunt to nephews Tommy, Timmy, James, and Bryce, and nieces Amira and Anastasia, all of whom brought her great joy.

Alexis is also lovingly remembered by her maternal grandmother, Judith Currinder, and her paternal grandmother, Genevieve O'Brien, as well as many aunts, uncles, cousins and life-long friends.

Alexis was predeceased by her maternal grandfather, Vaughn Currinder, her paternal grandfather, Robert McGonigle, and the absolute love of her life, Christian Houser—each of whom she loved deeply and who now welcome her with peace and open arms.

Though Alexis is no longer here in body, her spirit remains—in her boys, in her family, and in all the lives she touched. She was a bright flame in this world, and her light will never go out.

Rest peacefully, Alexis.

You were so loved. You still are. And you always will be...

In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made for the ongoing care of Giovanni and Bentley, cherished sons of the late Alexis McGonigal, in care of Strano and Feeley Funeral Home.

“ Lexx, I keep waiting for you to call me. I keep waiting to laugh with you again. We never had any secrets from each other. We would irritate mommy so much when we got together and would just laugh and be loud. We were so much alike. I miss you so much. I pray you are watching over all of us, we still need you! I will love you forever and miss you always. Love your big sister Nel

“ To my beautiful daughter I know you are at peace now but the void in my heart is so unbearable you were not only my daughter but my side kick you were my sweetheart that made me laugh, cry and get so mad at you but we always love each other to no end . There is not a minute that will go by that you are not in my thoughts and my heart you will always be my baby girl. I promise you I will make sure your boys hear your name everyday and I will tell them how much their mommy loved them Gio said a prayer to you last night I hope you can see and hear him Lex I love you more then the air I breath rest in paradise my sweet angel
