“ Betty, my heart is broken 💔 I just talked to you the beginning of April and said I would be calling you on your 93rd bday. I tried a lot of times and just this past week. I had a feeling something wasn't right. I will always cherish the memories we made and oh we have a lot! You were there for me through all my hardest times in life I always said you were my bff and we'd laugh at me having an old lady as a bff You always had a sense of humor. I softened you up too cuz everytime I would leave your house or hang up the phone I'd say I love you and you told me that you don't say that to no one but you liked me a lot! Well after about 5 yrs of our friendship you started saying I love you back even with a hug 🤗 I will forever treasure our memories and I hope to remember all those funny stories you told me. Betty I knew this day would come but I wasn't ready I thought you'd be here a little longer as tough as you were I'm so heart broken if I knew that the phone call was going to be the last I would of never hung up! Well Lady go rest and I'm sure Poppa Joe was happy to see you you have a lot to talk about I'm sure. Till we see each other again May you be resting in peace I love you Betty! 🥺❤️ love Sue (the daughter you never had)
