“ She doesn't have much but she gives a lot. I won't forget the dinners she made for me. May God rest her soul. R.I.P.

“ This morning, I thought of Carol. She and I worked together at a bank in the early 90s. It was my first "real" job in Delaware... I barely knew how to turn on the computer! Carol kind of took me under her wing...she patiently showed me the ropes, coached me when I didn't understand something, helped me out when I was in a jam. She was always sharing things with me- her knowledge, her time, and just herself. It was Carol who would talk to and encourage me when others wouldn't. That really meant a lot to me! She was such a kind and giving person. After I left the bank all those years ago, I would often think of Carol. We lost touch but I never forgot her. So today, this morning, Carol was on my mind. So much so that I thought I would google her and try to reconnect, hoping she would remember me. Had no idea she had recently received her promotion. It put a damper on my morning but I'm so grateful to have known Carol. May God bless all family and friends as I know she was deeply loved and will be remembered and cherished always.

“Granny Carol is the best granny in the world. I was her homestay student from China, my name is Shanshan. And I am her forever Chinese granddaughter, no matter where she is. She always says we did a lot together, I always respond: yeah, a lot! I couldn't imagine 5 years American life without her. I felt welcomed and taken care of from the moment we met. She was such a nice nice lady. We went to places together, we walked blondie together, we cooked together, I lived in her house for almost 2 years with times adding up. I saw her painted her room, gardening if the weather seems nice, hosted her church meeting in her house, lay on her sofa watching Christmas series every year, drank some soda that was not so good to her health, took good care of blondie, went down to Dover to visit her daughter and granddaughters... The time I spent with Carol is more than my granny in China, she passed away when I was in high school. You know how much I love Chinese food, and you know I told you: Granny, I love you more than Chinese food. I miss you.

“ My Friend Shanshan Wang was a homestay student of Carol A. Stiffler. I always went to her house to visit Shanshan, that's how I knew her started in 201. Shanshan likes to call her granny, because she was dear to her heart. She was a very nice lady who liked to spend time with us and listen to us. I remember Shanshan had a birthday party at her house, invited a lot of friends and we had a lot of fun together. Carol and her family supported the event fully without saying anything. I knew from that moment, the lady is so kind and generous. Carol had a dog called Blondy was also our favorite with being so loyal and humble. We both feel very sad to hear about the loss of a person that was so dear to our heart, we will keep her in our memory.

“ Carol, I can't believe you are gone. I have been thinking of you every day. I will miss our friendship so much and your help at Kingswood Methodist. We had only known each other about 9 years, but we shared a lot and laughed a lot. The Bible Babes was so special for us. We read scripture, watched videos, and shared our stories. I hold the time we spent together close in my heart and I will never forget you. See you later my friend. Love, Barbara Durham

“ *Carol and my mom talked on the phone all the time. As first cousins along with Loretta they set the standard of the meaning of family connection. They loved each other throughout life....and never lost touch. Carol will be missed but will be welcomed with open arms in heaven as she joins her family. God rest her soul. With love and sympathy. *I met Carol when she applied to be a homestay for our international students studying at the English Language Institute She had recently become a widow and heard about our program. I had a wonderful visit with her and learned that her church was the very church in which I grew up! She housed many many internationals through our program; was a wonderful grandma to many! I am happy for her that she is out of pain and totally rejoicing before her heavenly Father and reuniting with other believers who graduated before her! God bless those who are left behind and you grieve her absence.
