“ It's said God brings people in your life to help you through your most difficult times. Diane came into my life as my greatest friend and became my family when I needed support the most, not just Diane but her entire family treated me as if I was one of them, making the difficulties of becoming a young mother that many turned away into a happy joyous experience. I'm forever grateful, humbled, and blessed to have had her touch my life. The angel who was the first person to wrap loving arms around my 1st born. God speed my dearest friend to the arms of your mom until we meet again I Love you.
