“ My beloved Aunt Liz. Queen of macaroni soup, has always shared herself with me completely. As a child, she nurtured me and as I grew up to have my own family, she showed us all unconditional love in the most welcoming way. She and Uncle Mike watched every talent show and pageant event with unwavering support. She always had the most amazing things in that little bathroom on Sycamore St. Pretty soaps and potions, hot rollers and armada of hair brushes that would make any little girls eyes light up with curiosity! I will certainly miss her but am lifted by the way my heart swells when I am reminded of all the gifts she shared with me.
