“ My Best Friend, my Confidant and my Partner In Crime. John and I shared so much and he knew me better than I knew myself. He loved me unconditionally as did I him. His passing left a hole in my heart and a sadness that will be with me forever. No one quite ever understood the special relationship John and I shared, we never cared or expected any one to. We both knew what was in our hearts and we could carry on a conversation without ever speaking. There will never be anyone that can replace John for he was one of a kind. I miss you my love and wait for the day when you will hold me in your arms once again. Always my love.
