“ Sandy enjoyed life to the fullest. She loved her sons, family and friends. She had been through a lot of pain and she was tired and wanted to be free. When she heard God Call she turned her back and left it all. She found peace at the close of day and is now with Bob in paradise. Free at last.

“ My dear, sweet, darling grandmother, I love you more than words can ever express. The relationship that we have shared over my lifetime has been the most important and defining relationship in my life. You have shown me and taught me not only how to be a strong and independent woman, but you have shown me how to be a wonderful mother, family member, and friend. I will cherish you and miss you every single day of my life. I find comfort knowing that you are with my father. I know how much you loved him and missed him dearly. I know you will be always looking down on me and I will always take care of the girls. Like you always told me, this kid will always "stick with you".
