“ I worked with Stanley's mother, Jeanne. She was always so proud of him. When he was little Stanley would visit my sister in Beaver Brook Apts when they lived there and she always kept the little boxes of raisins on hand for him when he would stop by. I know he is with his mother now. Andrea Kauffman

“ I never was fortunate enough to really get to know you Stanley, but whenever my niece and I were together she would always be talking about her Stanley. Her love for you showed through by the tone of her voice when it would soften. I am sure that, without her knowing it, your hand will be on her shoulder, giving her some peace by knowing you are there with her. Although God gave all of us a body for our souls to live in, we go on even after our bodies cease. God gives us happy memories in order for us to hold dearly those who are still with us and that helps us to go on and be grateful for the time God gave us together. Stanley, Bobbi is so much loved. I want you to know that I am so thankful that you were in her life, id even for a short while, in the universal scheme of things. You have left this world a better place, for having been here. You gave love and recieved love. That is what is so important. Rest in peace Stanley, you will be missed and always remembered. From your Aunt Nancy.
